

SLOW BRUNCH

If supper clubs are the in thing in London, might brunch be the next foodie trend, and started in Cornwall? Long, leisurely, with plenty of coffee and papers, and some of the county's fantastic breakfast products, anything from homemade muesli with Davas ewes' milk yoghurt to rare breed pork sausages and maple cured bacon. Slow Food in Cornwall is holding a slow brunch on 30 October at Prideaux Place, Padstow. "We see this as a wonderful way to explore Cornwall's heritage, enjoy its produce and perhaps even make new friends in a stunning location, with a convivial atmosphere," says Slow organiser Angie Dodd. For more details of the Slow Food Brunch Club contact Angie Dodd on 01841 533066.